

Mannkal-ECOMS Dinner

Mannkal's first student event for 2011 will be held in conjunction with the ECOMS society of UWA. Sarah Newton-Palmer will present "Finding Your Own Way" – ideas on how to successfully make the transition from university to the workplace.

'We work hard and expend considerable energy gaining our qualifications and proving that we have what it takes to take our place in the world. No sooner are we ready to go out and claim that promised place than we realise we are standing at a crossroad. Now life perversely asks something new of us: we are challenged to move beyond what we have learned in order to find our own way.'

Date:	30th March, 2011
Time:	5.30pm for 6pm-7.30pm
Location:	Subiaco Hotel, Corner of Rokeby Rd and Hay St
RSVP:	25th March
Cost:	Free for current university students
Enquiries:	emma@mannkal.org or 9382 1288

Sarah Newton-Palmer

Sarah is an experienced leadership facilitator and coach with over 20 years professional experience both in business and the arts here in Australia and the United Kingdom. She currently writes a monthly article on leadership development topics for WA Business News, and has consulted, coached and facilitated leadership development in the following companies: Nab, BHP Billiton, Medibank Private, Bankwest, Australia Post, Hayes Knight GTO, KPMG and the Department of Commerce.

MANNKAL
ECONOMIC EDUCATION
FOUNDATION
WWW.MANNKAL.ORG

...because ideas matter...

