

Overview

The Lion Rock Institute is a free market think tank based in Hong Kong and they are looking for an Australian intern for December 2012 and January 2013.

The successful applicant would work on public policy projects and learn about the workings of the most economically free country in the world (according to Heritage Foundation's Annual Index of Economic Freedom (<http://www.heritage.org/index/ranking>)).

The objective of this internship is for the applicant selected to work on short policy and 'op-ed' style pieces, while also assisting senior members of the Lion Rock team to develop their capitalism.HK quarterly publication.

The Institute gets involved in all policy initiatives in Hong Kong, but the majority of its efforts go towards its policy priorities, which are: Broadcasting and Telecom, Town Planning, Transportation, Housing and Re-Development, Fiscal Management, Competition Law, Social Mobility, Minimum Wage, Education, Health Care, and Financial Services.

Location

Hong Kong

Requirements

Applicants should have an interest in free market principles, as well as a high level of communication skills.

Costs

This internship, in partnership with the Mannkal Foundation, will include flights, accommodation, travel insurance and a small stipend.

Application Process

If you are interested in this internship, please examine Lion Rock's website (<http://www.lionrockinstitute.org/english/index.php>) and then email your Resume, Statement of Academic Record (an unofficial transcript is fine) and a Cover Letter outlining why you'd want to take part in the internship to Felicity Karageorge (felicity@mannkal.org) by Friday, 28 September 2012.
