

A Message from Hans Schreuder: The Man Made Global Warming Nonsense Must be Put to Bed for Good

All,

Pease find a layman's explanation on the fallacy of man-made global warming online at:

Time has come to publicise the lies perpetrated by the UN's IPCC and all of its adherents.

Their grand scheme of global control over our use of energy has spectacularly backfired with Mother Nature not co-operating in any way with their flat-earth computer models. Not one single scenario spewed out by these monstrous machines has come even close to mimicking reality.

Dealing with reality is more important than dealing in carbon trading that will have nil effect on the climate - not now, not ever.
